

HARMON'S PAULDING ADDRESS

Closes First Week of a Very Strenuous
Campaign

FLAYS CINCINNATI BOSS

Because Harding Refuses to Cast
Him Off—Exposes
State Grifters.

Paulding, O., Oct. 3.—With his meeting here Saturday night, Governor Judson Harmon closed the first week of his field campaigning, the work being most strenuous. The Democratic candidate has made it clear that he proposes to fight for victory and a re-election upon the graft and extravagance issue and the redemption of his promise of two years ago that if elected he would break up the state treasury ring at Columbus and institute reforms in the taxation system.

As an incident to this issue, the personality of George B. Cox of Cincinnati, the bete noir of up-state Republicans, has been injected into the fight, and this collateral issue has been accentuated by the refusal of the Republican nominee, Warren G. Harding, to categorically repudiate that leader, because of connection with the exposure of former State Treasurer McKinnon's peculations.

In the later addresses of the week Governor Harmon has strengthened his attack upon the Cincinnati leader by quoting the only testimony taken by the second Hamilton county investigating committee headed by Senator Benjamin F. Gayman.

This was furnished by former United States Marshal Vivian J. Fagin of Cincinnati, who testified that as assistant county treasurer he personally paid to Mr. Cox the money received from banks in that city as interest upon county funds illicitly deposited.

Proceeding further, the governor, in one of his addresses, asserted that the money which was recovered through the Drake investigating committee was paid back to the Hamilton county treasury through the agency of Mr. Cox.

In many of the rural sections visited last week the letters that passed from Treasurer McKinnon to the Cincinnati Trust Company have not been published by the Republican press, and at every meeting at which he delivered a political speech Governor Harmon has read them to his crowds and explained the needs of the county whereby the money supposed to be on deposit in the treasury vaults was shipped to Columbus each quarter to be counted and then returned to the bankers, who really had it the rest of the year.

The eager attention given to the reading of these letters and the explanation that greets the governor's explanations are indexes which prove that there is a deep interest in the issue. Upon each occasion he has issued a challenge to Mr. Harding to define his position toward Mr. Cox in the light of these latter-day disclosures.

Thus far he is not satisfied with the statement from the Republican nominee that if the Cincinnati bank had been guilty of wrong doing that it should be corrected. He insists that Mr. Harding shall apply his Kenton maxim, crime is individual to Mr. Cox.

In the same blunt fashion he has arraigned the Republican state committee of two years ago and former Governor Andrew L. Harris for defending the conditions in the state treasury and the embezzlements in the department of public printing, or which Mr. Slater, now in the Ohio penitentiary, was the head, and openly charges that the Republican state ring was instrumental in defeating the bill requiring state funds to be let at public competition so as to do away with favoritism and graft.

Conditions in the department of public work furnished another theme for discussion and the basis for the charge that there is waste and mischievous extravagance there that should be ended. This particular topic is unusually interesting to the governor's audiences, especially in the rural sections and in counties through which the canals do not pass.

Two of the unexpected developments of the week were Governor Harmon's taking up and discussing of the public utilities commission bill and the Columbus street car strike. The first was sprung at Seville, in Medina county, the home of Representative Frank Woods, author of the commission bill though the governor refrained from any comment upon the defeat of the measure until he reached that county.

Then, specifically denying the allegation that he was inimical to the bill and refuting the charge that he had sneeringly remarked that he had not even read it, he demanded to

WOMAN IN CASE HIS DAUGHTER

REV. J. C. SCHINDEL KEPT A SECRET THAT ALMOST RUINED HIM.

Former Newark Minister Suffers for Not Telling of His Youthful Marriage.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 3.—The story of the sacrifice of Rev. J. C. Schindel, a former Newark, O., pastor, is probably unparalleled even in fiction. It shows what gossip in a church can do. Rather than reveal the facts concerning a youthful wedding which he held sacredly inviolate he permitted himself to be torn from his church and unfrocked and reviled on all sides.

Bearing the burden in silence he was forced through illness to seek refuge in a hospital, after his name had been linked with that of a mysterious woman.

His story would probably never have been told and he would have gone to death unhonored except for this same woman, who is his own daughter. Mrs. Reynolds, the daughter, refused to permit the stigma on his name and herself told the story.

Dr. Schindel reluctantly confirmed her statement, but chided her for the revelation.

Twenty years ago Dr. Schindel met, loved and secretly married his daughter's mother in the University of Pennsylvania. After a short honeymoon the couple separated.

Until shortly before the death of her mother the daughter did not know the identity of her father. The mother's last breath whispered the name to her and she sought him out. He in the meantime had married again and accepted a call from this city.

The second Mrs. Schindel knew of the former marriage and stood smilingly by her husband's side keeping her promise to him not to reveal the secret. The daughter, however, refused to permit her father to longer bear the flings of the congregation, and made known the truth.

Now the girl had married a man named Reynolds and the two had been unhappy. A year ago Dr. Schindel returned to Newark to attend the funeral of another daughter and Mrs. Reynolds met with him there and told him her story.

Mrs. Schindel knew all about the girl. Her husband told her of Laura's trouble and they decided to have her come home and bring suit for divorce. She came and was known as "Mrs. Reynolds." She opened a studio and the church folks noticed her interest in the pastor. They noticed his interest in her and then began to talk.

Then there was a revel of gossip when Mrs. Reynolds went to Independence for her divorce. Dr. and Mrs. Schindel went along. After this Mrs. Reynolds went into the Schindel home to live and then there was more talk. To avoid a scandal, Dr. Schindel resigned.

There was a church trial and Dr. Schindel made no defense and he was dismissed.

Hereafter Mrs. Reynolds will be known as Laura Schindel and will live with her father and stepmother.

know from his opponents why the Republican leaders in the senate openly worked against it, and why, with a majority in excess of the constitutional requirements, the Republican party had not enacted it into law.

The bill, he asserted, had been drawn with the approval of President Taft as a measure intended to secure credit for his party and it was defeated through its representatives in the senate.

It was at Norwalk that he discussed the Columbus street car trouble, and for the first time made it known that he had been engaged in the work of mediation for weeks, acting as messenger between the disputing elements and urging each side to make concessions in the hope of bringing peace and order.

His hearers were told that he had summoned the troops to Columbus to put down disorder and lawlessness because the mayor and sheriff had fallen down in the performance of their duties. With emphasis he asserted that he favored arbitration, but deplored the fact that there was no law to make it effective unless with the consent of the disputants.

On behalf of the governor in this connection, Charles H. Graves, the nominee for secretary of state, charged that the defeat of compulsory arbitration was due to Congressman Nicholas Longworth, Attorney General Dennison, Samuel L. Patterson of the Republican state committee, and Warren G. Harding.

The charge was taken from the record of the General Assembly of 1902 when these men threw such a clause out of the Municipal Code at the behest of Senator Hanna and his colleague, Senator Foraker, and Governor George K. Nash.

Replying at Wooster to the allegation of Mr. Harding that the legislative investigation had uncovered more Democratic grafters than Republicans, citing State Treasurer David Stanley Creamer as an example, the governor called upon the attorney general to recover from United States Marshal Hy. D. Davis and W. S. Rogers of Cleveland, two former state fire marshals, over $1000 each which they drew from the state treasury in the same way that Creamer did. Until this was done, he asserted, Mr. Harding should keep his mouth closed as to Democratic grafters.

Throughout the week Mr. Creamer's administration as state treasurer has been defended and his reelection requested. As for the graft charges against him, the governor asserted that the practice of charging personal expenses was founded upon the opinion of a Republican attorney general, John M. Sheets and flourish for many years, until a Democratic state examiner has, doubting its validity, put the question up to Attorney General Dennison, who reversed his predecessor.

Stress was laid everywhere upon the fact that every Democrat who had followed the custom had returned every penny to the state treasury, while every Republican had failed to do so, and he has asked whether Creamer was guilty of graft or of merely following an established precedent, and has obtained no answer.

If Creamer is a grafter, then so is United States Marshal Davis who has been reappointed to his office by President William H. Taft since charges were brought before the general assembly by the committee.

At Norwalk, the former home of former Secretary of State Lewis C. Gaylor, now chairman of the Republican state committee, for the first time during the campaign reference was made by another speaker to that official's record as shown in the majority report of the Howe committee of 1908. In that report he was charged with following the practice of depositing checks for collection with banks in Columbus and of maintaining a large balance outside of the state treasury. Reference was also made to the fact that subordinates under his administration had been indicted by the Franklin county grand jury for taking bribes and commissions upon sales of goods made by merchants to the state.

Since leaving Columbus the governor has spent in Marion, Florida, Attica, Loudonville, Wooster, Seville, Creston, Norwalk, Fremont and this point, and has held innumerable receptions along the line.

MAYOR GAYNOR BACK AT DESK

New York Oct. 3.—Mayor William J. Gaynor returned to his desk at the city hall today. There was no ceremony about his return. He rode down town in a street car and a newsboy recognized him and began clapping his hands. Others followed suit and Gaynor received quite an ovation, which he replied to by lifting his hat as he entered the city hall.

He refused to discuss politics.

STRIKEBREAKER SHOT.

WHAT IS IT?

In Writing Your Want Ad Do Not Use an Unnecessary Word, Nor Omit a Necessary One!

A want ad may be too short as well as too long. There ought to be, always, a rational brevity—but this should not preclude a touch of "human interest"—the statement of such facts as will give the advertisement a certain DEFINITENESS instead of vagueness.

This is a picture of the Los Angeles Times building, which was destroyed by explosion and fire Saturday, October 1. Major General Harrison Gray Otis, the principal owner of the Times, is shown above.

POLICE INVESTIGATING LOS ANGELES EXPLOSION

Los Angeles, Oct. 3.—Shovelers working on the Times building ruins today found the remains of seven persons at the foot of the elevator shaft. Times employees who tried to identify them failed utterly. This brings the total known dead to 12.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 3.—Every sale of high explosives in Los Angeles and the surrounding territory for a considerable period of time will be closely investigated by the police in an effort to secure some clue to the perpetrators of the Times outrage.

Physicians in charge of the injured say they will all live, but some of them will probably be invalids for life. Gen. Otis, owner of the Times, issued a long statement today, thanking his friends for their warm support and expressing his determination to rebuild the Times "better than ever, to prosecute his war for industrial freedom more relentlessly than ever." The work will begin at once.

It was today ascertained that a large quantity of dynamite was purchased at Oakland on Sept. 19 by three men who took it away in a launch. A dynamite expert said today that part of this, about 150 lbs., may have been used to wreck the Times building, and the rest of it is probably stored somewhere about the city.

Many people still believe that gas and not dynamite caused the explosion. Union labor bodies all over the state are offering assistance in running down the perpetrators. The local police last night found four cones of dynamite and a box of caps for it near the plant of the Meyer Brewing company. This concern has been frequently threatened.

LIGHT STROKE
OF PARALYSIS

Mr. Walter Harrison, the well known state inspector for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company, which position he has held for a number of years, is believed to have suffered a light stroke of paralysis in his home on East Main street, Monday morning, shortly after 5 o'clock, affecting his right side and speech. Dr. Sook, a prominent physician, and reports from his bedside Monday afternoon are to the effect that he is considerably better and improving rapidly. Mr. Harrison has hundreds of friends in Newark and along the B. & O. railway, who will hope that he may soon recover and be able to be around again.

BELIEVED 29 PERISHED BY SWAMPING OF BOAT

Men Were Returning From Shore Leave to Battleship New Hampshire Anchored in Hudson River

Searchers are at Work in Endeavor to Recover Bodies Many of Which Have Probably Been Carried Out to Sea by the Tide--- Sorrowful Scene on River Front.

New York, Oct. 3.—One body was today recovered by the men searching for the remains of the victims of Saturday night's disaster. Another life was sacrificed last night when a woman fell into the river while watching the rescuers. Eugene Audit of the Kansas, jumped in and saved her but drowned himself. The woman is reported to have lost a $350 ring and told a policeman and some sailors that they should hunt for it as it was worth more than any dollar sailor.

A persistent report that 12 bodies had been recovered and were held on one of the ships was flatly denied by the officers today.

With the tide running like a "mill race" the divers and river men who are searching for the bodies of the 29 lost members of the crew of the battleship New Hampshire were dubious today that any of the bodies will be recovered for several days.

A high wind has prevailed ever since Saturday night when the disaster took place and this has added to the fear that many of the bodies have been carried to sea. All through last night boats and launches carrying men with grappling irons moved slowly backward and forward between the anchored warships and the shore of the Hudson river off West 158th street. The scene was lighted by the giant search lights of the big gray leviathans which strained at their anchor under the pull of a tide so powerful that extra anchors had been let out.

On shore relatives of the missing men who live in this vicinity gathered together watching with the most untiring anxiety the throwing of the drags. Occasionally one of the drags would seem to catch on some obstacle, there would be a heaving of the man in the stern of the frail craft, as he drew the line in to find only some debris.

One additional fatality took place just after midnight when a man-of-war's man from the battleship Kansas lost his life. He was known to his companions as "Frenchy" and dived overboard to rescue a young woman who had fallen from the landing at 157th street. He was followed immediately by Ensign Blackburn. The latter grasped the girl just as a life belt was thrown to him and they were pulled ashore. Another life belt was thrown to "Frenchy," but before he could enter it he was swirled out into the stream by the furious tide and sank.

The board of inquiry was trying to place the responsibility of the disaster to the New Hampshire's launch Saturday, all day yesterday and last night.

Most of the officers of the squadron were inclined today to insist that the whale boat was not overloaded. They claimed that it was customary in port, where the water was smooth, to fill the boat with take-home parties back to their ships as full as possible, the being considered unthinkable. Besides the ensign commanding there were but five men in the launch that was towing the whale boat. They were the regular crew.

Just why the searchlights of the fleet were not brought into play at once when the wreck of the men precipitated into the water were first heard, is a question that cannot be satisfactorily settled. Had they been brought in, it is a possibility that at least one of those who were drowned might have been saved. Because large number of those in the whale boat had been recipients of much boozing on a previous day were hardly in condition to demand to aid themselves and it was also added to the horror of the catastrophe.

KENTUCKY MOB

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 3.—To prevent the return of a mob of Charles Rice, a new and old friend for the murder of a woman at Frankfort, was brought back to the Lexington jail by the local city Sheriff Buckner this morning.

MAY REPLACE COAST VESSELS

Denver, Colo., Oct. 3.—That zeppelins will soon replace coast defense vessels is the opinion expressed today by Gen. Nelson A. Miles. He says the difference in cost will play a prominent part in bringing about the change.

YOU CAN SAVE MONEY BY READING THE ADVERTISEMENTS

By SETH BROWN

The store which does the most business can afford to handle the best goods at the lowest prices.

The amount of business which a store can do in a year is not limited by the size of the store or its location.

The one which can turn over the goods is the most frequently, sell the most goods during the year, is the one which can afford to serve customers to the best advantage.

In order to do this the merchant must advertise continually tell the people what he has for sale. Otherwise the goods would remain on his shelves a long time.

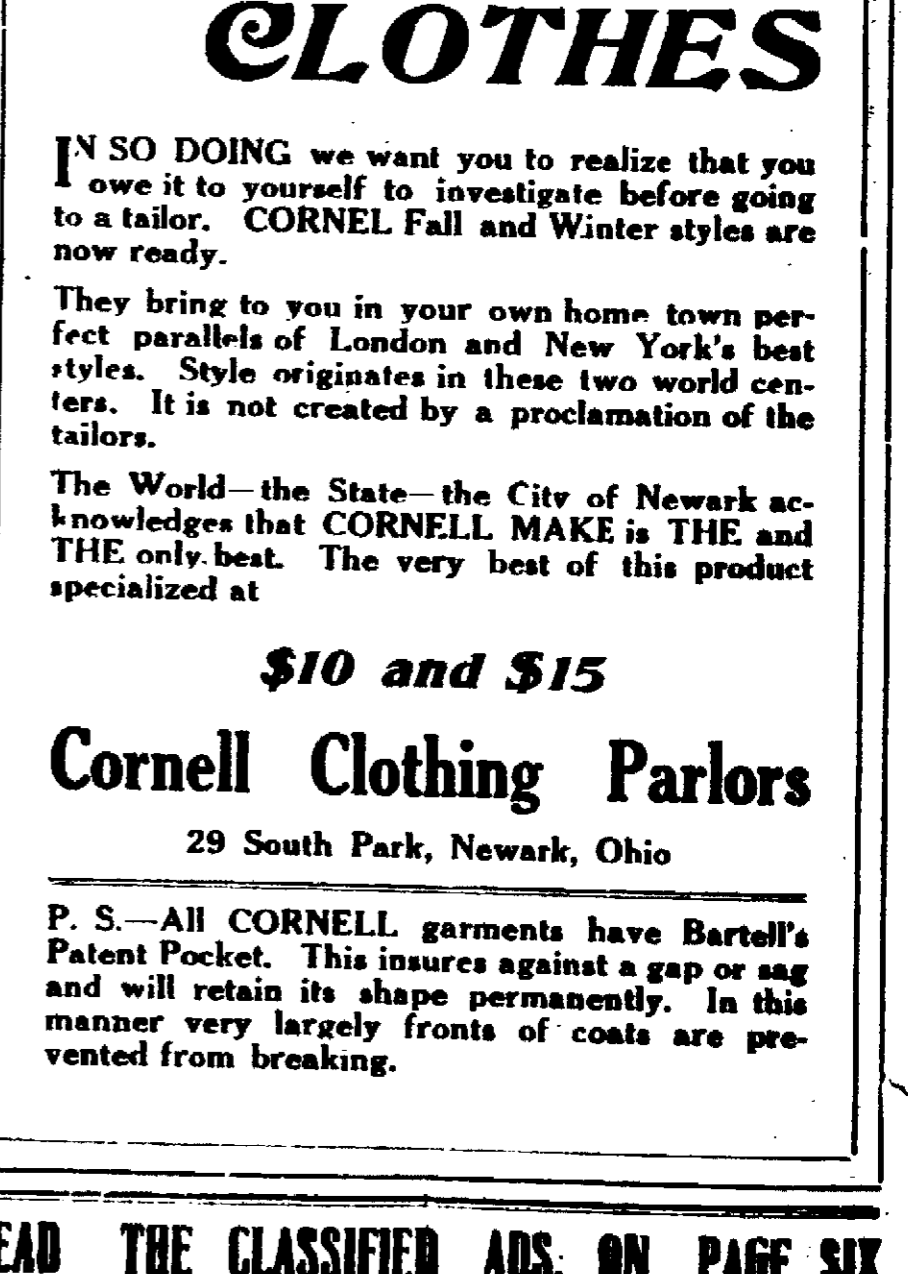

They become old before they are sold.

Therefore it is very plain that the store which advertises is the best one in which to trade.

That is not only true from the standpoint of variety and style, but from the standpoint of economy, because the merchant who advertises does a larger volume of business each year than the man who does not advertise and therefore he can serve you to better advantage.

It pays to trade with the dealer who advertises—tells the public what he has for sale and why it is good.

FASHION HINTS.
Few of the French hats have rolled back, except in the urban models, and in these the brim rolls back so slightly that it is scarcely more than a trimming on the crown. But the droop of the wide brim is exquisite. The shepherdess drop is one of the fashions of the season, and these hats, with their wide, rather straight brims, which dip just the least at back and front, are most becoming to nearly all women.
The latest in color combinations is dark red and a rather bright blue combined to give the effect of the modish purple. This is very smart indeed, but care should be taken not to use either of these colors for trimming. Black is the best, or some neutral color.
Elaborate little boleros of embroidery transform a simple gown into ornament. They look wonderfully smart too, over a last season's dress.

HEART and HOME TALKS by Barbara Boyd

Little Problems of The Home.

Too Much Imagination.

The pleasures of the imagination have been so much descanted upon by writers both in prose and poetry that one might think the best thing to do was to cultivate all the imagination possible in order to get the most joy out of life. But there is a possibility of too much imagination. One can dwell in realms of fancy too long, or look upon life in so imaginative and impractical a way that all one's affairs go askew. One needs to hold the reins of fancy with tight, firm hand.
If the head of the house has too much imagination, he is apt to be what is known as "visionary," a rainbow-chaser. He can't settle down to the dull, prosaic routine that brings bread and butter for his family. He spends his time building castles in the air, in thinking out wonderful schemes that will realize millions. His imagination paints these things in the rosiest colors. The fact that he continually fails does not deter him. His imagination grows by what it feeds upon. And as one castle crumbles, another still more beautiful rears itself.
If he would turn this imagination into right channels, and let it glid and glorify everyday life, he would have a treasure indeed. If it would help him to see the romance in the plodding life of his fellow-book-keeper, if it would turn his daily work of waiting on customers into a humorous and picturesque show, it would be a faculty well worth possessing. If he would keep it within bounds, it would do this. When he finds that his visions melt into this air, that the end of the rainbow ever eludes him, then he needs to acknowledge that he is indulging in unprofitable and vain imaginings. He wants now to turn this faculty into profitable channels or keep it for relaxation after business hours.
A certain man with an imagination of this sort believed his work in life was to write stories. But his stories came back with the regularity the occasion. The other dances will be given on October 24, November 21, January 16, February 20, April 17 and May 15.

In the presence of about 20 persons Ola May Moran of Frazeyburg was united in marriage to James Arthur Fairley of Licking county in the probate court room by Justice John A. Green, Saturday morning.
Justice Green was summoned to the probate court over phone to officiate at the ceremony. Within ten minutes after the license was secured the words had been spoken and the wedding party dispersed. Mrs. Fairley was just 18 years old—Zanesville Signal.

DENISON DOWNS OHIO UNIVERSITY

Baptists Prevent Opponents From Crossing Goal—New Rules Cause Some Mixups.
Granville, Oct. 2.—Denison carried off the candy from Ohio Saturday to the tune of 12 to 0. The home eleven started in with an aggressive style and kept it up until the finish. At no time did Ohio have a chance. At the beginning of the third quarter, Coach Freeman ran in an entire new line, with a change in the backfield, giving every candidate a turn. Even against this line, Ohio was unable to advance. The game was marked by frequent delays, due to difficulty with the new rules. Ohio failed to produce a single play that Denison could not spoil, while Denison's triple pass for long end run worked continually against their opponents. For Denison, Black, Rupp and Anderson played the noteworthy game.
All Denison's points were made in the first two quarters. After the regulars returned to the field they forced the ball to the 3-yard line when time was called.

DEMOCRATIC CLUB MEETING

The next meeting of the Licking County Democratic Club will be held at the club rooms Friday evening, October 7 at 7:30 o'clock.
The meeting will be addressed by

Hon. Lewis B. Hawck of Mt. Vernon, and other good speakers. All Democrats, whether members of the club or not, are invited and urged to be present.

HARDING'S TRIBUTE TO GEORGE B. COX

At the State Republican Convention, held in Columbus, May 18, 1904, Warren G. Harding, then lieutenant governor, made a speech in which he nominated Senator Foraker, Governor Herrick, George B. Cox and Senator Dick as the Big Four to represent Ohio in the Republican national convention as delegates-at-large. After proclaiming Foraker the "peerless leader," Herrick the "treaty but business governor" and Dick, the "political leader," Mr. Harding said:

"And next I want to name a great big, manly, modest, but mighty grand marshal of an invincible division of the grand old Republican army in Ohio; a man who as a division commander has been unconquerable, and by sheer force of merit and ability has forged his way to the very forefront in party council."

"Modest, I say, but a man of ability who is wise in council, trusted in advice, just in judgment, who places party above personality and success above selfishness."

"He has elevated his head high above the storm of calumny and abuse, and won his way to a trusted place in the party, and we yield deference and devotion to George B. Cox of Hamilton county."

The decision of Mayor Gaynor not to be a candidate for Governor of New York with election within his

CHAS. W. MILLER FOR SENATOR. WILLIAM E. HAAS FOR SENATOR

Chas. W. Miller is Licking County's Democratic candidate for State Senator. Mr. Miller in the prime of life, vigorous, energetic and talented is a prominent Newark lawyer, a son of George Miller who years ago was treasurer of Licking County. Mr. Miller is a successful business man as well as an attorney-at-law and he looks at a proposition with a trained legal-business mind. Mr. Miller is a good "mixer" and has a large personal following which is by no means confined to the Democratic party.

In the Senate he will be broadminded, conservative, honest and faithful to the party and the people.

Mr. Miller has visited Perry, Muskingum and Delaware Counties an everywhere he and his running mate Hon. Wm. E. Haas of Delaware have gone they have met a cordial reception. Everywhere throughout the district they hear that the people have had enough of Senator Dick who is a blind follower of N. C. Cannon and the Trusts. The election of Chas. W. Miller and Wm. E. Haas will be a long step towards retiring Senator Dick to private life.

reach was the wisest of a wise man. He recognizes that he is more needed where he is than in the office of Governor. The people of the great commercial metropolis have cause to thank him for his decision.

HARDING ON HARMON'S ELECTION

Commenting on the result of the state campaign in 1908 Mr. Harding's paper, the Marion Star said editorially next day after the election:

"Mr. Harmon's assault on the deputies and alleged grafters has apparently failed. If Judge Harmon slips in, as now seems likely, he will have opportunity to justify his criticism of Governor Harris. Mr. Harmon has said the governor could correct the evils which he loudly proclaimed. The people of Ohio will expect performance in office for the promise of the campaign."

Well, Mr. Harding, promise has been followed by PERFORMANCE. But a great deal more might have been accomplished if the voters had elected a legislature with a Democratic majority in both branches two years ago, instead of the kind of legislature that was elected—a legislature with a hostile Republican majority in both branches, which did all it could to obstruct Governor Harmon's administration, when responded to every recommendation he made by exclaiming that "Harmon is playing politics," and continuously placed party politics itself throughout both of its sessions.

SUGAR TRUST WAS ROOSEVELT'S PET

One of the things Colonel Roosevelt has never found it convenient to explain is the refusal of his Administration to prosecute high-up functionaries of the Sugar Trust when the proofs of their criminality and of the guilty knowledge of Government functionaries were brought to his attention. It will be observed that close representatives of the Sugar Trust are still prominent in the Roosevelt entourage, ostensibly helping him in the battle for clean politics and the "New Nationalism." The Sugar Trust is, by all odds, the most corrupt and rotten of the whole brood of Trusts that causes half the sickness. It retains waste in the bowels, produces biliousness, dizziness, indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, sick headache, insomnia.

course the country. Roosevelt knows it. He knew it when he refused to take steps to prosecute the Trust and make it disgorge millions of dollars belonging to the Federal Treasury. Of what account is his bellowing against "malefactors of great wealth," whilst the unpunished Sugar Trust, having plead the statute of limitations, fervently joins in the hypocritical bellowing?

In Washington some people are concerned about the disappearance of the cent. Elsewhere people are more concerned about the disappearance of the dollar under the pressure of high prices.

JOSEPH E. BROWNFIELD

Mr. Joseph E. Brownfield is one of Democracy's candidates for reelection to the office of commissioner. This is a difficult and responsible office to fill, and he is well qualified for its arduous duties, having made a splendid official the past two years during his tenure of office.

Mr. Brownfield is a man of energy and push, of business training and ability, and he has the courage and independence to serve the public and advance the public interests, at any cost of time and effort on his part.

The people of Licking county, irrespective of party, have done business with Joe Brownfield as a cattle and stock dealer, for years, and they know him. They know that he is honest, faithful and reliable. They know that he will make an honest and faithful public official and that he will fill the office of county commissioner satisfactorily and well. An honest man competent and qualified, a staunch and gallant Democrat, Joe Brownfield will continue to make a first class commissioner, for he will be elected by a good safe majority, is the prediction of all his friends.

Mr. W. E. Haas, Mayor of Delaware, is one of the Democratic candidates for Senator from this the 15-16th district. Mayor Haas is now serving his second term as chief executive officer of Delaware and has handled many difficult matters with satisfaction. The people of Delaware give him a plurality of twelve when he was elected the first time. After two years' trial, they gave him a plurality of 485, thus demonstrating in a most positive manner that the voters heartily approved of his actions as Mayor of Delaware, which is a Republican city.

Additional honors came to this young man in the nomination for state senator, and his many, many friends are anxious to promote him to a higher place and bestow upon him a greater honor.

All these honors have been merited by Mayor Haas. He has endeavored to serve the people of Delaware as an impartial judge and his record shows that he has done his duty.

Mayor Haas is yet a young man and while his public life has been less than ten years, he has won the high esteem of his constituency and will be a credit to the district as one of its senators.

HARDING ADMIRES UNCLE JOE CANNON

(Editorial in the Marion Star, Mr. Harding's paper March 19, 1909.)
"Speaker Cannon refutes the idea that he is now, or ever has been a Czar. He holds that the majority rules now and always has ruled. Right you are, Uncle Joe," and it is one of the most highly centralized and perfectly united majorities that ever came down the legislative thoroughfare."

GEORGE T. TAVENER

One of the best known and most popular men in Licking county is George T. Tavenor, one of the Democratic candidates for county commissioner. He has lived in Licking county all his life and has hundreds of friends in every section of the county. Mr. Tavenor was elected corner of Licking county in 1896 by over 1,000 majority. He served two terms with credit to himself and his party. He was elected to the office of commissioner two years ago this fall and is now asking for a second term. Mr. Tavenor is before the people as the nominee of his party for commissioner. He stands before the people with the same public esteem that has always been accorded him. He is one of Licking county's best men in every respect—courteous, honest, and a man who will more than even his salary as county commissioner. He is a man who will grow in the confidence of the people the longer he is known. It goes without saying that popular, honest and genial George Tavenor will make the people a valuable and efficient officer.

Many an aspiring tenor has been lost on the high C.

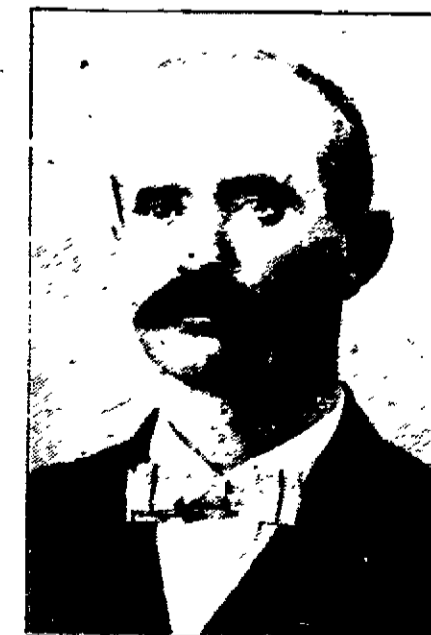

Turn about is fair play, even with the hand-organ man.

S. I. TATHAM

The Licking County Democracy is especially to be congratulated upon having such a strong and well qualified candidate for County Commissioner as Mr. S. I. Tatham. During the past two years he has served the tax payers faithfully while a member of the board.

Most of his life has been spent on the farm, and by his industry and thrift and by his own unaided exertions he has acquired a competency, owning a farm in Harrison township, and another in Union township. For some period of his life he worked under his father, Mr. B. F. Tatham, who had contracts under the County Commissioners for constructing bridges, culverts, road grades, etc., so that he is proficient in that line of work.

Mr. Tatham married early in life, and is the father of three children, one of whom is living. He is a consistent member of the Baptist church at Kirtersville. He is also a member of Kirtersville Lodge No. 587 I. O. O. F., Knights of Pythias Lodge, No. 704, Alexandria, also of the Improved Order of Red Men, No. 54, of Kirtersville, and of No. 44 F. and A. M. of Tateshale. As a strong proof of Mr. Tatham's ability and character it is only necessary to say that he has twice been elected township trustee, which is normally Republican by about sixty majority. He is a safe, industrious man who has made his way in the world and has always maintained a high character. Economic in money matters, well qualified for the office and careful of the interests of the people he will make an ideal commissioner in every respect, and it is to the interest of the tax payer that such men as he should be elected to the office, as he certainly will be.

Stops carache in two minutes; toothache or pain of burn or scald in five minutes; hoarseness, one hour; muscle ache, two hours; sore throat, twelve hours—Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil, monarch over pain.

HARDING DENOUNCES GOMPERS

Commenting on the defeat of Mr. Bryan in the presidential campaign two years ago, Mr. Harding's paper, The Marion Star of November 4, 1908, gave Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor an incidental slap. If Mr. Harding feared "the danger of Gompers' radicalism" in 1908, how can he expect the same kind of radicalism among the workmen of Ohio to support him for governor at the ballot box next November? This is what Mr. Harding's paper said:

"Moreover, Mr. Bryan's alliance with Samuel Gompers, and his consent to specialize the administration of the courts to a class demand, served to illuminate Judge Taft's record on the bench and emphasize the latter's discourtesy and full understanding of real justice. This alliance of Mr. Bryan and Mr. Gompers gave signs of a sweeping victory for them at the start but the Labor vote of the country has a great undercurrent of sober thought and mature reflection revealed THE DANGER OF GOMPERS' RADICALISM. The result hinged, in good part, on the tremendous change of labor sentiment in the last two weeks of the campaign."

THE MUNSON MUSIC CO.
27 WEST MAIN ST.DOMESTIC SCIENCE AT SHEPARDSON

This year Shepardson College, of Granville was added to her list of varied courses that of domestic science, placing it on a basis with all other school subjects. Though it is a comparatively new movement all schools are awakening to the fact that their young girls and women require a different training from that given to their boys and men, that they may be fitted to take up their work after school life is over.

The course, which is under the able instruction of Miss Jane Irwin of this city, is a most practical one, and teaches one how to buy food and prepare it in the most economical way. The preparing of plain dishes, as well as the more complicated ones, is taught, and no outside studies, such as chemistry, etc. are required for those taking up the course. It is the desire of those in charge to get girls and women from the surrounding communities to take up this course alone and learn cooking from a scientific point of view.

In this course two hours a week are required, and the lessons are given in Domestic Science Hall, located in Main street, two doors from the postoffice. The course includes the buying, storing, cooking, serving of foods, and while chemistry is a distinct branch in domestic science, it is not taken up this year as a separate study but a little is given with each lesson, that one may see why certain foods require high or low temperature, a long or short time in cooking, and accessories and sauces to give the greatest amount of nutriment to the body.

Domestic art is also taught by Miss Irwin in Society Hall, and includes cutting and fitting the simple, as well as the more complicated garments, machine and hand sewing, and both reed and raffia basket weaving.

Miss Irwin, who successfully conducted a class in domestic science in this city last year, received her training in the National School of Domestic Art and Science of Washington, D. C., and later she had a course in cooking with Janet McKensie Hill, editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine and a writer of several cook books of note. Her instruction in basketry was under Miss Mary Slason at the Arts and Crafts School of Washington, D. C.

RHEUMATIC POISON

Rheuma Drives It from the System and Cures Rheumatism.

Ever since Evans' Drug Store secured the privilege of handling Rheuma in Newark, the sales have been very large.

This is due to the fact that Rheuma really does cure Rheumatism, and that it is guaranteed to cure Rheumatism or money back.

It's a quick acting remedy, too. You don't have to wait a long while for results, for Rheuma starts at once to act on the kidneys, liver, bowels and blood, and before 24 hours the poisonous Uric Acid, which causes Rheumatism, has begun to pass out of the body through the regular channels.

One 50 cent bottle will prove to any Rheumatic sufferer that Rheuma surely will cure Rheumatism.

For quickest relief from acute indigestion, try English Marshm. 25 cents, at Evans' Drug Store. Mailed by Rheuma Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

SOME POINTERS

In Buying and Building Homes by The Ad. Writer of The Buckeye State Building and Loan Company, Rankin Building, 22 West Gay Street, Columbus, Ohio.

3.—Buy or build a dwelling suited to the locality in which it is found. Houses should correspond to their surroundings. For instance one should not build a mansion on a side street surrounded by three or four room tenement houses. Neither would one expect to build a three room house on a five thousand dollar lot. Save your money and buy or build a home. The Buckeye pays five per cent on time deposits. Assets over $4,200 000.

The leading theatrical act at the Auditorium theater is the biggest and lightest salaried act that has ever played Newark, and is Miss Minnie Amato, supported by a company of 14 people in "A Night in the Sum of Paris." Miss Amato produces her famous dance, "La Danse Du Contour." This act is entirely a pantomime and includes a number of French people, Mons. Aurel, Cecile, Billie Fern, James Aubrey, G. Visconti, Walter Bagge, Louis Peter and others.

The story deals with the life of the notorious female Apache, who on account of her glorious golden hair was known to the natives of the Paris underworld as "Cassiope D'Or" (Golden Helmet). The scene is laid in Belleville, a famous rendezvous of the Apaches and their gigolettes. The play is one of one act and two scenes with special sets.

This big act is supported by an excellent bill, Victor O'Brien and company, presenting the screaming farce entitled, "His Wife's Butler." Glen Bart, monologist, Cornelia and Wilbur, vaudevilles' representative comedy acrobats, Bonome and Stewart, eccentric dancers and comedians.

AT THE ORPHEUM

See a big headliner at the popular Arcade playhouse this week. The Five Merry MacGregors in the Scotch singing and novelty playlet, "A Brood From Bonnie Scotland." One of them, by the way, is Mac Tod, a member of a rival clan. This act consists of more than could be said through these columns. Four men and one woman comprise the troupe and all have magnificent voices, which they use to good advantage in solo and choruses that are worth going miles to hear. The curtain opens upon a room in a Scotch castle, with statues of the ancestral heroes standing in niches along the walls. By the use of a miraculous stone the statues are brought to life for an hour and the way the old knights in their kilts and jackets cut up before the spell is broken, is side-splitting. The act is full of good comedy which rivals its splendid musical features. It is one of the best acts the Orpheum has ever had, and one which no one could miss the opportunity of seeing.

RIGEL PARK CASINO

The pictures of the Cowboy and Indian celebration held at Cheyenne, Wyoming, was great. The opening scene showed the arrival of Ex-President Roosevelt, then the sampling parade of Indians and cowboys. The rough riding of the cowboys was immense. The pictures were lectured by Jack Martin and his lecture was well enjoyed, as he could be heard all over the house. The audience which visited the Casino were well repaid for their trouble.

WATER PLANT CONNECTIONS ESTABLISHED

A misunderstanding seems to exist regarding the water rates as fixed by the city at a recent meeting. The rate is 15 cents 100 cubic feet, with a minimum rate of $1 a year, or $1 a quarter. The meter cost is $8.50, paid by the consumer, while the city pays for installing it.

The majority of consumers in the city are today using the water furnished by the municipal plant for most of the cutovers have been made. The service has generally been satisfactory, although there was some complaint early this morning before the pressure was fully established and the pumps made to work properly. Connections between the lines of the city and the Newark company are being made as rapidly as possible, and everything is satisfactorily according to Service Director Charles Hall.

SIMILARITY OF THE PLATFORMS OF NEW YORK AND OHIO

Columbus, Oct. 2.—Chairman Lewis C. Laylin of the Republican state executive committee, Saturday gave out a statement showing the striking similarity of the platform adopted by the Ohio and New York Republican state conventions. Former was held in July and the latter a few days ago still they are so much alike that the average layman, who is not in the know of the great game of politics, would hardly hesitate to cry plagiarism and already many are pointing out the almost "deadly" parallel. Evidently Mr. Laylin expects to reap as much benefit from the points he takes as follows.

The platform of the Republicans in this state was made by those who were not considered on the side of the progressives, if one will stop long enough to remember that famous but unsuccessful flight of James R. Garfield at the recent Columbus gathering. On the other hand, Colonel Roosevelt slipped one over on the "Old Guard" in New York state.

He is the head and shoulders of the "progressive" wing of the Republican party in this country. Shortly after his return from the Dark Continent and prior to the Ohio state convention he conferred with Mr. Garfield. The New York platform is of his making, and while his friends did not win in Ohio it might be well for them to stop and ponder on what Colonel Roosevelt stood for in New York, if they are at all displeased with the Ohio document.

Mr. Laylin's statement cites particularly the similarity of the two platforms in indorsing the Taft administration; praising the conviction of the sugar fraud criminals; lauding the Payne tariff, and pledging the nation to wise conservative policies.

Conscience Money.
"Conscience money" in Great Britain now amounts to thousands of pounds annually. The first sum noticed was on March 30, 1789, when £360 was carried to the public account in consequence of a note received by the chancellor. The writer with troubled soul implied him, "an honest man, to consider the money the property of the nation and to be so just as to apply it to the use of the state in such a manner that the nation may not suffer by its having been demanded and thus to ease the conscience of an honest man."

PEOPLE'S PULPIT...

Sermon by
CHARLES T.
RUSSELL
Pastor Brooklyn
Tabernacle

Blood Atonement For Sin Is a Necessity

"The life of the flesh is in the blood; and I have given it to you upon the altar, to make an atonement for your souls; for it is the blood that maketh an atonement for the soul" (Leviticus xvi, 11).

Brooklyn, N. Y., October 2.—Pastor Russell of the Brooklyn Tabernacle addressed a large and very attentive audience today at the Academy of Music from the above text. He said:—

Ours is a day in which, more than ever before, the statement of our text is disputed—disbelieved—by Jews, Gentles and Christians. The great Christian author, St. Paul, agrees exactly with the words of Moses in our text, saying, "Without the shedding of blood there is no remission of sins" (Hebrews ix, 22). The orthodox Jew and the orthodox Christian, therefore, are in substantial agreement as to the foundation of things and the orthodoxy is in agreement of opposition.
The latter agree that there is no necessity for Sin Atonement—that the later thought of all the wise men of the earth, the greatest ministers and rabbis, is that there is no such thing as Original Sin; hence could be no such thing as necessity for cancelling it—of making an atonement or satisfaction to Justice on behalf of it. Two things have contributed to these unorthodox, unscriptural views.

(1) The agnostic Jew not only disputes the Bible as an authority on the subject, but, in addition, admits to himself that if the shedding of blood, if the sacrifices commanded by the Levitical code for Sin Atonement be admitted to be right and necessary, it would involve the thought that the Jewish people have had no Sin Atonement in any sense of the word for more than eighteen centuries, because Sin Atonement must be made according to certain specified conditions or else it could not be made at all. The loss of the Ark of the Covenant containing the Law, and covered by the mercy-seat, was one of these disasters.
The destruction of Jerusalem, the City of the great King, was another, and above all, the Law required that the sacrifices should be killed, and the presentations sacrificially made to God, only by a priest who could show his lineage as a son of Aaron.

(2) Since the destruction of Jerusalem A. D. 70, the Jewish nation has been scattered and devastated by their foes —some of these, alas, claiming to be Christians and dishonoring the name of Jesus! As a result all official records and genealogies of the Jewish people are broken, vitiated, destroyed.
Undoubtedly there are numerous descendants from Aaron living today; but, since they cannot prove their descent, they are absolutely forbidden to attempt to make a Sin Atonement on the Atonement Day. Viewing the matter from this standpoint the unorthodox Jew feels all the more inclined to repudiate the necessity for any Sin Atonement. Alas, indeed, many of them seem not only to have lost confidence in the Mosaic arrangement, but to have lost faith entirely in a personal God. We hope and believe that many of these are sincere and will be blessed and assisted back to faith shortly and to a better understanding of the holy Scriptures and of God's dealings with their nation.

Jewish Atonement a Farce.

In view of what we have said, all must see that it would be impossible for the Jews properly to observe the Atonement Day, having no priest nor other facility necessary to the requirements of the Law. Nevertheless, an outward show of ceremony is kept up. On the proper Atonement Day of their year, the Tenth Day of the Seventh Month, the Jew figuratively acknowledges that the merit of the previous sacrifice has expired. He fasts. He prays, according to the original program. But he has no priest. No bullock is slain for the sins of the tribe of Levi. No goat is slain for the sins of the other tribes.
And no blood is taken into the Most Holy to make an Atonement. Not only have they no priest to officiate, but they have no mercy-seat. Some of them wring the neck of a rooster, swinging it over the head three times.
But this was not the sacrifice of the Day of Atonement and could not take its place.

We should not be misunderstood as holding up the Jew to ridicule. Quite to the contrary, we sympathize with him. We appreciate his reverence for the Divine Law and his desire for fellowship with God in the cleansing of his sins. We would, however, suggest to them that nothing is to be gained by deceiving themselves and each other into the supposition that their Atonement Day brings them any relief or harmonizes them in any sense of the word with the Almighty. What they do is a mere farce. The sooner this is acknowledged the sooner will their honesty in the matter bring them into the proper condition of heart to recognize that the sins of more than eighteen centuries rest upon them un-cancelled and that this is the explanation of the calamities that have befallen them.

When Israelites come properly to understand the situation, they will see that all their hopes center in Mes-siah's Kingdom. Messiah is not only the great King typified by David and Solomon, but he is also the great Priest typified by Aaron and whose particularly by Melchizedek, who was a priest upon his kingly throne. So Messiah will not only be the great King over Israel and the world, but he will be the great Priest whose application of his own merit will effect the cancellation of sins forever. He will not re-introduce to them sacrifices of bulls and goats, but will make known to them that those sacrifices were mere foreshadowings of better sacrifices—so much better that they will not need repeating yearly, but work a perpetual cancellation of the sins of Israel and of all the children of Adam.

Higher Critics Repudiate the Blood.

All the worldly-wise of Christendom have reached the point of repudiating the testimony of the Old Testament and the New respecting the need of a sacrificial death for the satisfaction of Divine Justice, the cancellation of sin and the restitution of the sinner to Divine favor. The claim of the so-called New Theologians repudiates the fall, repudiates the ransom and repudiates a restitution to all that was lost—claiming that nothing was lost and that all we have is gain. Thus the world and its wisdom know not God and appreciate not his arrangement that, as death came upon mankind through the sin of one man (Adam), even so a restitution to life should come to all men through Christ—that "as all in Adam die, even so all in Christ shall be made alive."

These worldly-wise cannot deny the fact that there is sin in the world and that there is death in the world and that the tendency of all sin is towards death. They cannot deny that death is gaining a greater hold than ever before upon our race. Insane asylums, prisons and reform schools show that, notwithstanding our educational facilities and wonderful achievements under the enlightening influences of the New Dispensation now dawning—nevertheless, the insanity statistics and the prison statistics and the physical statistics show that, in spite of everything, our race is becoming mentally, morally and physically weaker day by day. It is for them to explain how these facts fit to their theory of Evolution.

The Christian's View of Sin Atonement.

By the term Christian we refer to those who intelligently believe the explanation of the Bible respecting sin, that it is a violation of the Divine Law and carries with it a penalty—that Father Adam was created as sinless as are the angels and as perfect as they, only on a little lower plane of being. Obedience was required of him as the price of Divine favor and everlasting life. Disobedience thrust him from Paradise into the unprepared earth to wrestle with the thorns and thistles, where the decree, "Dying thou shalt die," accomplished his execution. His race was in his loins and naturally shared by heredity his weakness and death penalty, so that the entire race is a dying race. But the Creator was unwilling that Adam and his children should die as brutes.
God did not revoke his decree of death nor give any intimation that he had done unjustly in condemning his creature. He did, however, provide a way for their relief. He provided that, as the first man alone had sinned actually, so one Redeemer alone would be necessary for the race. And to him he offered a great reward, so that his sacrifice for sins would work out to his own advantage, as well as to the sinner's. A part of the reward was the high exaltation to the heavenly nature—far above angels, and the gift of the Kingdom of earth necessary for the overruling and subduing of the spirit of rebellion in the world and for the exaltation and uplifting from sin and death conditions of all the willing and obedient of Adam's entire race.

"The Better Sacrifices."

From the Divine standpoint "the man Christ Jesus gave himself a ransom for all," for Adam's entire race, to be testified in due time. He anti-typified the bullock of Israel's Atonement Day, as well as antityped the priest who slew the bullock—because he offered up himself. Rewarded by the Almighty, he was raised from death to the spirit plane, higher than the angels. Applying his merit to the antitypical Levites, "the household of faith," "the Church of the First-borns," he then began a work little understood by either Jews or Christians, but nevertheless clearly outlined in the Word of God. His work throughout this age has been the gathering of the elect class—which is himself because of faithfulness to him and obedience in walking in his steps in the narrow way. These, composed both of Jews and of Gentiles, have for centuries been in course of development—their sacrifices being typified by that of the Lord's goat on the Atonement Day.
Their sacrifices are small and lean like that of the goat, in comparison to the bullock. But they are accepted by the Great High Priest, and the offering of their sacrifice is counted as his sacrifice. Thus eventually the High Priest will complete his work of atonement and believe very soon and then his second application of the blood upon the Mercy-Seat will be made, just as it was written in the Law, "On behalf of all the people," only that "all the people" on the larger scale will not mean merely the Israelites outside of the Levites, but will mean the whole world of mankind outside of the household of faith, the antitypical Levites. Forthwith the whole world will be turned over to Messiah, the antitypical Prophet, Priest, King, Mediator, Judge. Then for a thousand years the world will receive the blessed, uplifting influences.

There will come to Israel's share in the great work of recovering the world to God. They are still beloved for the fathers' sakes and the gifts and calling of God to them are things he will not repent of. At that time the great anti-typical Prophet, Priest and King will begin his work as a Mediator. At that time he will mediate by bringing into operation the New Covenant which God promised he would make with Israel and Judah, "after those days"— after the days of their humiliation and being cast off; they shall be reclaimed and uplifted and blessed and used of the Lord. This is God's Covenant with them when he will take away their sins—when by virtue of the "better sacrifices" their sins shall be absolutely and forever cancelled by the antitypical Priest, of whom the Prophet David wrote, "The Lord hath sworn, and will not repent, Thou art a priest for the age after the order of Mel-chizedek"—a kingly priest on the spirit plane (Psalm cx, 4).

What Atonement Signifies.

The word Atonement or At-one-ment signifies the bringing of persons alienated or estranged back into harmony, sympathy, union. Many are perplexed at the doctrine of blood-atonement so prominently set forth in the Bible. The shedding of blood is naturally revolting and properly so. It seems strange, therefore, to those who do not understand the philosophy of the Divine Plan of Salvation, why God should have required a blood-atonement for sin. Sometimes the very people who object to blood-atonement believe something much more awful—that an atonement for sin can be effected by hundreds or thousands of years of most terrible torture. Some believe even worse than this—that an everlasting torment penalty for sin will be exacted of all except the saintly few of humanity. How inconsistent and illogical we have all been in our reasoning upon religious subjects!

In Scriptural usage blood stands for, or represents, the life. In harmony with this is our ordinary use of the word. We read, "The blood of Jesus Christ our Lord cleanseth us from all sin." Here the word blood stands for death, or rather, for the merit of the sacrificial death of Jesus. His death would have been equally efficacious as man's Ransom-Price if his side had not been pierced. It would have been equally meritorious if he had died in any other manner, except that he was to take the place of the sinner to the very last degree—as the Mosaic Law declares, "Cursed is everyone that hath hanged upon a tree," thus branding crucifixion as the most ignominious form of death.

But why should God require the death of a victim as a basis for the forgiveness of the sins of Adam and his race? We reply that God's Law was intended to be an illustration of the exactness of Divine Justice. Justice could not punish Adam nor his children with everlasting torture or any other of the horrible things we once imagined. The severest penalty of the Divine Law is represented in our common law, which, as an extreme penalty, requires the death of the transgressor. Adam, having been sentenced to death, would have had no future opportunity for life—neither by resurrection nor otherwise. Adam's children, sharing his weaknesses, would have had no opportunity to regain life, because justice is unchangeable. If it was just to condemn sin, it would be injustice to rescind the penalty and set the culprit free. Divine Love has provided a way by which Adam and his children are all to be freed from death and have an opportunity of eternal life—not by violating the requirements of Divine Justice, but by fulfilling them. Hence in due time, the man Christ Jesus died for the man Adam, to cancel his sin, to satisfy his penalty. And since his sin and penalty have been inherited by his children, the one sacrifice for sin is sufficient for all.

The work of atonement is not completed. The first half of atonement is the satisfaction of Justice. But even this part is not yet completed.
The Redeemer presents his sacrifice in two parts, according to the type.
The first effusion of his blood spoke peace to believers who now have the ears to hear and the heart to obey; the second effusion, as shown by the Law (Leviticus xvi, 15), will make reconciliation for the sins of all the people—the whole world of mankind.
Then the other part of Atonement begins.

After the Divine reconciliation comes human reconciliation. The great Messiah will not require sacrifices of humanity, but, on the contrary, will open the blind eyes and cause the knowledge of the grace of God to reach Adam and every member of his race. Then all willing for reconciliation will be helped by the great Mediator of the New Covenant and by Israel, his Chosen People and earthly representatives. The object to be accomplished during Messiah's reign is the bringing to all the willing and obedient the restitution which God has promised—restitution to all that was lost. Ultimately Messiah will transfer the allegiance of the whole world (perfected by him) to Jehovah God, that he may be all in all (1 Corinthians xv, 28).

CARY MONTGOMERY WRITES FROM VIRGINIA

Editor Advocate:

I am doing farmer institute work in West Virginia, and it is quite different from any place I ever worked before.

The first place was about ten miles out from Parkersburg. There was no coal, gas or oil in the neighborhood.
They have had it dry and the roads were good, but the fields were brown and cultivated crops short. We found some people giving some attention to the poultry business and the putting out of orchards.

The next place was more to the interior and they had had heavy rains.
It was in the oil and gas belt, and much heavy hauling is done over the roads and some unfathomable mud holes were run across.

We had a half written driver and the joints he gave us will be remembered. I had taken the precaution to have a button sewn on my pocket-book pocket before leaving home, and it was well for I had everything thrown out of my open pockets a time or two.

The little valley was so narrow that you would never find an area in one place of more than two acres level enough to cultivate, and the hillsides were so steep and broken that I would have to travel towards all points of the compass before reaching the top, and when you got to the top they were so sharp that if you would attempt to drive a wagon straight across you would break the coupling pole.

I tell you it took nerve to talk farming with such surroundings. But why should they care about farming? If a man had a few gas wells on his place yielding him fuel and from $200 to $500 per annum for each well, he did not care about plowing corn.

To reach the next place we had to travel up the mountains by a little narrow gauge railroad, a wonder indeed. We asked the station agent about getting away and he said not later than half past two, and the train may start ten minutes before that.

But here the valleys were wide, the hill sides not so steep, but more regular and the tops broad, sometimes a fairly level ten or fifteen acre field.

We found here some beautiful apples, some good cattle and sheep and a few valleys dotted with very picturesque herbage, denoting the presence of lime stone.

We were traveling on the B. & O.

Southwestern and passed one place where there was to be a fair. We noted that at each station there came aboard many happy children and bustling maddens bound for the fair. And making inquiry of my colleagues, we told me about this fair. It was his home country.
This fair has a department for children under 16 years. Has this department ever done any good? Let me tell you about my colleague. I found him a very bright young man that will graduate at the West Virginia Agricultural college next year.
At nine years old he bought a pair of pigeons and began breeding and exhibiting. Guinea pigs were added, next Belgian hares, then chickens, now Scottish sheep and Shorthorn cattle, and here we have a young man intensely interested in agriculture and if he lives to some age, I doubt if West Virginia valley will be big enough to hold him.
And why not our own fair at home take up the idea of interesting the children in an agricultural way?

Remarkable Violin Test.

An ingenious test of old and new violins, in which an instrument of modern make was voted the finest, has been made in Paris. During the performance both critics and performers were in complete darkness, so that it was impossible to see which one of the seven violins selected for the test was being played. Then immediately after being used the instrument was placed under a cloth, and the lights were turned on for a few moments to enable the critics to write down the votes. All the violins were played by two musicians of high standing, and the compositions were written especially for the test. The two violinists tried to bring out the best in each violin, and the result, decided by the votes, was interesting. The modern make of violin led the list with 162 votes, and its nearest rival for favor was a Stradivarius with 96 votes.
Other old and famous makes of violins received 82, 85, 87, 82 and 80.—London

JEWISH NEW YEAR, TUESDAY, OCT. 4.

The Jewish New Year will be observed October 4, also October 5, by the orthodox Jews. The beginning of the Jewish faith observes one day only. The month of Tishri, the first day of which is New Year day, is really the seventh month of the Jewish calendar. Nisan being the second month, but Tishri is the first ecclesiastical month. Ten days after New Year's day comes the Day of Atonement. There is scarcely a Jew in the world, unless he has severed his relations entirely with Judaism, who does not observe the day in some way. He may not fast 24 hours, he may not even attend synagogue, but at least he abstains from labor. Jewish places of business are closed.

Editor Advocate—Is not the esteemed editor of the American Tribune rather insistent or persistent (or both), concerning Sheriff Slabaugh's care of the prisoners in the county jail? I do not know what particular leniency or laxity the American Tribune complains of, but I do know that whatever crimes these men may have committed or may be charged with, they are all human beings, creatures of the same flesh and blood as ourselves, and therefore I do not think we ought to object to any utilization of the dullness and monotony of their prison life and our they have no occupation or recreation—wherever to beguile the long and weary hours of the long and weary days—that does not conflict with their safe cus-

OBITUARY

JAMES H. GALLIGHER.

The funeral of the late James H. Galligher, who died at his home in Fountain Square, Zanesville, Friday night, occurred Sunday afternoon the services being conducted in the Presbyterian church in Zanesville by Rev. T. B. Waite, pastor of the South street M. E. church. The remains were interred in the Norwich cemetery. The deceased was one of the oldest employees of the B. and O. railroad company in Ohio, and for 21 years had held the position of operator at the B. and O. passenger station in Zanesville. He was well known in Newark and his death is a sad blow to his countless friends, both among the railroad fraternity and in other walks of life. Mr. Galligher had been in ill health for about a year. Four weeks ago he was stricken with a cold, and a week ago his condition became most serious. The deceased was 60 years old, lacking nine days. He lived in Norwich for a number of years, and was a member of the Norwich lodge of Masons. He is survived by his widow and one son. He was most competent in his chosen work, which was demonstrated by his long service with the company.

MICHAEL HAREN.

Michael Haren, aged 65 years, died at his home, 40 Mill street, Sunday morning at 8:10 o'clock, of paralysis, with which he was stricken on Sept. 13, and since which time he has gradually failed in health.

The deceased is survived by a widow, Mrs. Agnes Haren, five children, Mrs. Dennis Hosen of Newark, Mrs. David Hull of Holloway, O., Mrs. Thomas Ludden of Newark, Miss Mary Haren of the home, and Sylvester Haren of Los Angeles, Cal., two sisters, Mrs. Lena Armbruster of Urbana and Mrs. Barbara Gallagher of Temperanceville, O., and three brothers, Fred and John Haren of Woodfield, O., and Adam Haren of Barnesville.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament Tuesday at 9 a. m. Interment in Mt. Calvary cemetery.

PRISONERS SENTENCED THIS MORNING

The following named prisoners Monday morning changed their pleas of not guilty to guilty, and were sentenced by Judge Seward:

Defendant also entered a plea of guilty of assaulting and beating Carl Etherington. Sentenced to pay a fine of $20 and 10 days in jail. The jail sentence was suspended during good behavior.

State of Ohio vs. Frank Weekly, plea of guilty. He is charged with breaking into a B. & O. box car. Sentenced to Ohio State reformatory at Mansfield until discharged by due process of law.

State of Ohio vs. B. W. Robinson, indicted for obtaining money under false pretenses. Plea of guilty. Sentenced to $5 fine.

In the class of show horses there has never been the like here before. There are about 175 entered and the management is pressed to take care of them in the way of shelter.

CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS CLOSES THIS EVENING

Chairman Bennett of the Y. M. C. A. campaign for $11,000, was at headquarters early this morning outlining the campaign for the day. He was hopeful of victory. The only difficulty is to see the large list of possible small subscribers before 7 o'clock tonight when the workers gather for supper and the final reports.

The ministers postponed their regular monthly meeting in order to further the interests of the canvass today.

It is a mathematical impossibility to call on every prospective giver today, and the committee urges every one who will help this civic movement for a more effective Y. M. C. A. to send word to the association before 7 o'clock tonight. Subscriptions for any amount are acceptable.

Some of the most inspiring gifts have been very small, but given without solicitation by people to whom even the small gift meant sacrifice and self-denial.

"Give today" is the thought for Monday.

Mrs. A. J. Woodard, after a pleasant visit with friends in Zanesville, has returned home.
